PLAYER POINTS INDEX SYSTEM
(PPIS)

BACKGROUND

In Australia more than 90 per cent of adults have an interest in sport and about 11 million adults and 3 million children take part in sport each year, but many sports are finding it hard to get sponsors, and fewer people are playing sport. If this trend continues, adult participation is predicted to fall by more than 15 per cent by 2036.

We need to reverse this trend because sport, exercise and physical activity have lasting health benefits, stimulate the local economy and increase social connections by performing developmental and patriotic functions. Team sport coordinates both individuals and social groups. It helps give people the chance to test their limits and celebrate both personal and club success.

The PPIS is a grassroots system that ensures the sustainability of clubs in competitions while encouraging the promotion of their players along the many pathways which our game provides at all player levels. The philosophy of competition equalisation is accepted in sports all around the world. Professional sporting bodies have accepted practices such as drafts, salary caps, FIFA Fair Play, and the like, to help competitions safeguard competitive balance and club sustainability.

Many NSWRL competitions have used a Player Points Index System to promote junior and senior alignment, links and pathways, environments for learning, longevity, and service in addition to competitive balance. They recognised that more even and fair competitions stimulate greater interest from all sectors – players, coaches, administrators, supporters, sponsors, juniors, and media which in turn galvanises the clubs and strengthens the competitions.

Closely contested competitions allow supporters and club volunteers the chance to turn up on any given match day with the knowledge that the outcome of the game is uncertain, and that their team is a chance of winning. This mindset motivates people to become and remain engaged with their club and provides rewards and recognition to all those that assist in putting a team out on the field.

OBJECTIVES

- Support NSWRL Strategic Plan for Rugby League competitions.
- Promote junior player development and progression.
- Promote player allegiance and service.
- Ensure teams fielded in the many NSWRL Competitions are strong and as equally matched as possible.
- Provide the best opportunities for players to develop and display their skills.
- Provide opportunities to compete at all levels within an orderly and fair system.
- Enable team spirit and public support.
- Encourage community and corporate sponsorships.
- Reduce the inflationary nature of player payments to assist clubs survive financially and reduce financial burden/stress on Clubs.
- Support the role volunteers undertake in managing their Clubs by:
 - Providing a competitive on field environment, that encourages more volunteers to support at Club level.
 - Providing incentive to spend more time and effort in the development of football, and generally growing the game within the local community.
- Minimising the need to fundraise for player payments.

The NSWRL Player Points Index System (PPIS) sets out a framework of rules and principles in relation to a player's value in a points system which has been adopted to achieve these objectives without the need for a more intensive administration process such as a salary cap when a player is judged financially.
